The CampusTours AnyMap International Language Module allows AnyMap clients to maintain and update foreign language versions of their interactive maps for important countries. International versions of interactive maps may be equipped with special country-specific layers or video tours depending on the type of recruiting or students being sought.

"The AnyMap interactive map platform continues to add features to provide organizations maximum flexibility in implementing interactive maps and video tours," says CampusTours President Chris Carson. "The increasingly global character of modern organizations requires an interactive map system that can adapt to different languages and offer distinct regional approaches, and CampusTours is updating the AnyMap service accordingly."
